Landslide For JC Bonds; Daly City Backs Issue, 4-1

San Mateo Junior College district's first bond election Tuesday was a successful one, winning passage by almost a 3-1 margin.

The $5.9 million bond issue to create a unified campus and acquire a north county college branch site won the endorsement of 13,706 voters, against 4641 who opposed the measure.

The funds will allow the college district to provide for future enrollment by moving classes out of the "antiquated" Coyote point campus to a new unified site at Barneson Heights in the hills west of San Mateo.

The money will also go towards purchase of a another college site within easy access of north county residents.

"Important Step"

College president Julio Bortolozzo termed the success of the bonds "a very important step in education planning. This issue guarantees the young men and women of the district the first two years of the college education."

Bortolozzo said the college trustees are committed to a program of economy and will make every effort to obtain district-wide participation as the plans for the new campus are drawn.

A special citizens committee has been appointed by the board to select a north county site.

Daly City Support

Apparently because the north county site was at stake, Daly City area residents gave the bond issue resounding approval. In the precincts within the Jefferson Elementary School district the measure passed 1304 to 365, almost a 4-1 majority. The "no" votes had the majority in only one precinct, Jefferson Elementary school, 63-67.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

Let's face it folks, Christmas is in the air.

At the Hillside Cleaners at Market street and Hillside in Colma, a white revolving Christmas tree is displayed in the window, complete with ornaments and lights.

Either they're early or late in taking it down from last year.

And the city council is already talking about erecting its giant tree in the hills overlooking the city. They've set aside $1000 for the project. They'll ask local merchants or the Chamber to kick in the other $1000.

Two enterprising gents have already signed a lease with the city to rent property at 2125 Junipero Serra to sell Christmas trees.

Most of us haven't put away our camping equipment yet. We'll have to before they start stacking Yule gifts in the shelves.

Somebody is infiltrating the city with pet rats, Councilman MICHAEL DE BERNARDI informed his fellow city fathers Monday.

De Bernardi said that the many kids sporting the pet rodents told him the Daly City poundman was giving them away.

City Manager HOWARD STITES says the DC dogcatcher is not the modern-day Pied Piper.

But De Bernardi knows somebody's giving away the rats. His two boys each have one.

DeBernardi Asks Probe On 'Outside' Purchases

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi Monday demanded a cost accounting of certain purchases made outside the city, charging that the cost to pick-up supplies in out of the way places should be considered in bid prices.

De Bernardi said on many occasions a seemingly "low bid" was actually high because of the cost involved in picking up the supplies.

"In many cases it could be much cheaper to buy supplies here locally," he maintained.

Public works "and other departments" have been spending considerable money for transportation and labor to pick up material outside the city, the councilman charged.

De Bernardi, a member of the council's finance committee, also made inquiry on the cost of service calls at Westlake Auto Service for police vehicles, which he said were too high. He also charged that the city was paying a retail price when it purchased parts from that firm.

Also questioned by De Bernardi were bills for plan checking on commercial structures. "I thought we agreed not to stand the price of this," he said.

City Manager Howard Stites said that builders paid the city for the plan checking and the city in turn paid the outside engineering firm that did the work. "It's just a bookkeeping entry," Stites declared.

De Bernardi continued his finance probe by asking for a report on the purchase of more couplings for water meters, and a cost accounting on the bar screen installed at the tunnel outfall of the sanitation plant. On the latter item, De Bernardi said he could not understand how the city could purchase steel from a hardware store at a cheaper price than from a steel company.

De Bernardi was also successful in a motion to establish a policy that plans and specifications for all items to be advertised for bid be forwarded to councilmen.

United Crusade's Goal Here $8071

The Daly City-Colma quota in the United Bay Area Crusade is set at $8071, according to a bulletin issued today by the San Mateo County campaign committee.

A total of only $232 has been collected in the DC-Colma area to date, the report showed.

The county-wide goal is $847,900, with $66,500 in the coffers at latest report.

The Bayshore-Brisbane objective is $420. Just $10 has been contributed there thus far.

Progress has been excellent on the North Coastside, where the goal is $1988. Almost $500 has been received from this unincorporated area.

DC MAN SHOOTS SELF IN MOUTH, FAILS SUICIDE

A 51-year-old Daly City man is recovering in Community hospital today following a suicide try here Friday afternoon in the basement of his home.

Thomas R. Syme, an airport employee of 356 Winchester street, reportedly fired a .22 rifle bullet through his mouth, while under the influence of alcohol. The bullet came out through the bridge of his nose and Syme was still conscious when found by his sister.

According to Daly City inspectors, the man had been under a doctor's care for excessive drinking.

Broadmoor-Westlake Link Under Study

Extension of White street from Broadmoor through to Westlake to provide a direct link between the two communities will be discussed by the city council in study session Wednesday.

The Jefferson Elementary School district, which has sought to have the county street right of way abandoned, will send a representative to the meet.

Last Thursday Carl Timmons, representative of Henry Doelger Builder Inc., appealed to the council to block the abandonment of the right of way, which is now before the county planners.

Timmons said the White street extension would be the "sole existing link" from Broadmoor to the newer Westlake area if Junipero Serra street extension is established.

Westlaker Named Councilman

Pacelli Appointed, 3-1; Ends Month's Deadlock

Francis P. (Frank) Pacelli was sworn in as Daly City's new city councilman Monday, ending more than a month's political deadlock over the appointment to fill vacancy created by resignation of Paul Hupf. Hupf resigned to become city attorney.

Pacelli, 36, who lives at 117 Windsor drive in the Westlake area, was appointed at a special meeting Thursday night by a 3-1 vote. Councilman Del Wilson voted against Pacelli.

The council had met Wednesday to make the appointment, but had to adjourn the meeting to the following night, lacking a quorum of three.

Thursday night Councilman Sanford Vickers opened the nominations by moving for appointment of Edward J. Dennis, councilman who was defeated in the 1956 elections.

Vickers motion died for lack of second.

Vickers then moved for Pacelli, won a second from Councilman Michael De Bernardi. Mayor Joseph Verducci's vote gave Pacelli the majority, with Wilson opposing.

The council's action came just a day before the deadline. Any further delay would have meant calling a special election to fill the council vacancy.

Pacelli, factory representative for The Carter's Ink company, is married and has five children. He has resided here three years.

He has served on the local library commission for one year and worked as Hupf's campaign manager in the 1956 election.

He is active in the Our Lady of Mercy church Men's club, holding office of second vice president for that organization.

He is a member of the Cub Pack 248 committee and the National Stationers association.

He has been active in representing the church in the current dispute over acquisition of Westlake basin site for a school building.

Native Of S. F.

Pacelli is a native of San Francisco. He served in the infantry in Europe during World War II and attended University of San Francisco, class of '43.

Pacelli amounted to a "dark horse" in the selections, having never been mentioned among the eight possible candidates during the first few weeks of the council's "horsetrading."

His name came up as a compromise candidate about four days before he was appointed.

The new councilman said he as yet had no statements of policy regarding the city government. He told the audience Monday that, "I appreciate the honor given me by the council. I will work as hard as I can for the betterment of the entire community."

Councilman Late On Vacancy Issue, Tempers Flare

Tempers worn after a month's unsuccessful effort to appoint a fifth councilman, city fathers almost didn't get the job done last Thursday at their second special meeting in two nights.

Having called off Wednesday's meeting because of lack of quorum, the council called another session for 8 p.m. sharp Thursday.

At 8:20 p.m. one councilman, Sanford Vickers, was still absent.

A member of the audience, Dino Donati, inquired if the council shouldn't wait for Vickers, "on such an important issue."

"His Business"

Councilman Del Wilson, who had just returned from the Daly City Eagles dinner honoring local police and firemen, said, "Vickers was properly notified. If he doesn't care to appear, that's his business." Vickers was also at the Eagles dinner.

Another citizen, Don Leshner, arose to a point of order. "You weren't here at 8 o'clock either, Mr. Wilson."

The council deemed it best to call a short recess while several spectators rushed over to (Continued on Page 2)

Was It Jet Boom Or Just Sputnik?

The booming explosion which rocked Daly City Tuesday evening was probably a jet breaking the sound barrier, police believe.

The noise, heard at 9 p.m., brought residents to the streets and flooded the police station with phone calls.

Military officials, however, released no report that an aircraft was responsible. Moscow also was mum on Sputnik. Maybe the thing was acting up?

OATH OF OFFICE is taken by Francis P. (Frank) Pacelli, Daly City's new city councilman, who was sworn in Monday night. Administering the oath is City Clerk Evelyn Mosman. Pacelli was appointed last Thursday after more than a month's deadlock over who should fill Paul Hupf's unexpired term of 2½ years. Hupf resigned to become city attorney.

SKYLINE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Governor Pledges Aid

Gov. Goodwin Knight yesterday promised "complete co-operation" to the Westlake Improvement association in its battle for traffic control measures on Skyline boulevard.

Granting the Westlake traffic committee a 45-minute audience in the state building in San Francisco, Knight said he would arrange for a hearing before the state highway commission.

The governor said that although he did not have the authority to grant funds for signals at Westmoor and Westridge intersections, he would exert all his efforts to see the dangerous situation remedied.

The Westlake homeowners group has asked construction of an underpass at Westridge and a cloverleaf arrangement at Westmoor intersection.

If these projects are not feasible, the association is demanding traffic signals at the intersections.

Assemblyman Louis Francis, who has pledged his aid to the traffic problem, was not on hand yesterday. Francis had originally scheduled the meeting for Sacramento but the governor's schedule required him to be in San Francisco.

The association representatives based their plea to the governor on the contention that several thousand residents in the Palisades area would be virtually "isolated" if traffic is not controlled at the two intersections. In February, the group pointed out, some 1600 children will be crossing the highway to attend Vista Mar school, now under construction.

The Westlakers have maintained that state surveys showing signals not warranted are outdated.

The state has conceded that signals are needed for Westridge, but balk at the Westmoor plan.

Appearing before the governor were Cass Norton, president of the WIA; Ed Murphy, chairman of that group's traffic committee; Councilman Del Wilson, Bill Silva and Frank Hagerty, representing the Palisades; and Andrew Baffico, WIA architectural committee chairman.

Norton said that Knight would notify the association of the time for hearing before the highway commission sometime this week.

Minor Category

"After all" the architect said, "these items, amounting to maybe $10,000, are minor in comparison to the overall project."

"Certainly," Clampi continued, "the contractor is responsible for them, but the overall job is ready for your acceptance," he told trustees.

NORTH COUNTY ENDORSEMENT

North county residents are deserving of editorial applause for their foresight in granting a hearty endorsement to the $5.9 million bond issue for San Mateo Junior College district.

In this area the bond measure passed by almost a 4-1 majority, considerably better than the 3-1 figure countywide. College trustees have now been given the go-ahead to construct a unified campus to replace the inadequate Coyote Point facility and to acquire a north county site.

At the same time they have been handed a tremendous responsibility—that of expending this sizeable amount of money in a manner that will benefit all of the college district equally.

North county residents have displayed an active interest in the affairs of the college district. We are confident the trustees will reciprocate.

'BIG GAME' BOOMS OUR PREPS

Daly City sports followers were on hand in multitudes last Friday for the community's first "Big Game," the varsity football match between the two town schools, Jefferson and new Westmoor.

Athletic competition between the two DC schools provides a "natural" rivalry and should promote stronger backing and interest in the preps here.

Daly City long has been a sports-minded municipality. Many of our high schoolers have gone on to stardom as collegians and professionals. With Westmoor joining Jeff in the local picture, this trend will mount.

The welcome mat is always out to the public when Jefferson and Westmoor teams go into combat, here or on the road. Backing from adults and fellow-students alike make a lot of difference on the scoreboard.

We'll always be neutral when Jeff and Westmoor collide in Peninsula League competition. But when either battle other squads, you can count on hometown partiality.

These are your youngsters, folks. They deserve more recognition on the fields of friendly strife. It pays dividends in the long run.

Tipsy Housewife, Bartender Jailed By Local Police

George Azevedo, bartender at Eve's Place, 6382 Mission street, was arrested by police Monday night for selling drinks to an intoxicated lady.

The 51-year-old barkeep was cited a few minutes after officers booked Mary Hankerson, 46, a housewife, of 97 Citrus avenue, for "having too much to drink."

Police investigated when they saw the woman "staggering" in front of the beverage dispensary.

Mrs. Hankerson posted $25 bail and is due in court next Tuesday.

Azevedo, booked for violation of the business and professional code, was released on $250 bond.

Burglar Swipes $525 In Jewels

A neat burglar took $525 worth of jewelry sometime Monday when he ransacked the home of Willard C. Love, 97 Royce Way.

The victimized carpenter reported four watches and a $150 star sapphire ring missing when he returned from work.

Police guessed the intruder entered through a kitchen window, overlooking the front stairway. There were no signs of forced entry or fingerprints.

Several other valuable items were passed up by the thief.

Police, responding to a call from the frantic mother, found the youth unconscious in the rear seat of the family car. He had just driven the vehicle home after an absence of several hours.

Doctors at Junipero Serra hospital brought the boy out of danger. They could not determine what caused his condition. Alcohol was not involved, they said.

TROOP 248 DOMINATES

250 Youths Participate In Big Lake Merced District 'Roundup'

An estimated 250 boys, including nearly 50 newcomers to the Boy Scout program, participated in last Saturday's Lake Merced district fall roundup rally at Ocean View playground, according to Howard Stites, district Scouting commissioner.

Competition in the games and scouting skills in which many of the new registrants enthusiastically took part was won by Westlake's Troop 248, scoring a total of 15 points.

Troops 410, 92 and 113, and a non-organized group of new Scouts tied for second with three points each. Troops 244 and 50 placed third with two each, and Troop 249 was fourth with one point. Every boy present entered the wide-open competition in antelope races, broad jumps, and tug-of-war, although the skill games such as knot-tying, compass-boxing, and fire-by-flint called on the special demonstrations of Scout lore.

Stites' committee for the rally consisted of Walt Michels, competitions; Don Ash, judging; Bill West, arrangements; Bill Pengra, promotion, and Al Belotz, announcing.

Special arrangements were made by Jack Hurt, district Scout executive, for free cokes to be served at the noon recess. A powerful sound truck was donated for the day's event by Assemblyman Charles Myers, who was present to make the individual awards to winners.

Congressman Younger Addresses Senior Class At Westmoor High

Congressman J. Arthur Younger last week spoke to the entire Senior class of Westmoor High School on the House of Representatives and the Reapportionment Act of 1929.

The latter act formulates the manner in which the distribution of Congressional Districts are assigned to the 48 states. It is of great interest to California, due to its rapidly increasing population and the prospect of greater representation in the House of Representatives.

Younger emphasized the responsibilities of the California legislature in re-districting the Congressional boundaries in the state. Younger predicted that by 1960 California would be apportioned 37 or 38 congressional seats. In 1970, if predictions are right, California would become the largest state according to population and number of representatives in the Congress of the United States.

Page school for Congressional pages was another topic covered by the district's Republican congressman. Ranging from 14 to 18 in age, these boys serve in the Supreme Court, House of Representatives, and Senate. Some of their duties include answering phones, distribution of papers, bills, speeches, and running errands.

In the question and answer period which followed the formal presentation, Younger answered various questions dealing with integration, the Russian satellite, gerrymandering, atomic explosions, federal aid to schools, voting ages, and women in politics.

Youth has been a concern of Younger in Congress as well as in a high school. Nationwide recognition was given to him when he introduced a bill in the House of Representatives requiring the death penalty for the sale of narcotics to minors. This bill was passed by the House last year and is now in the Senate.

Introducing Congressman Younger was Principal Glenn South, who mentioned Younger's interest in local as well as national projects.

County Reaches More Than 10% Of Crusade Goal

United Crusade volunteers of San Mateo County have turned in slightly better than ten per cent of their goal of $647,995, it was reported late last week.

According to P. R. "Bud" Taylor, campaign chairman, the $66,500 reported is the amount already audited at headquarters. He said, "it is our feeling that there is substantially more money already collected in the field which will be reported in the next few days."

Last week's meeting was the first of five scheduled to report the progress of the campaign, now two weeks old, and honored the Construction Division and the Commerce and Industry Division of the United Crusade.

Coast Schedules Negro Speaker On Integration

The Arkansas school crisis and the NAACP's policy toward integration will be the timely topic presented by the North Coastside Democratic Forum in a meeting next Monday night at Pacific Manor school.

Speaker will be Lester P. Bailey, regional field secretary for the West Coast office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Prior to Bailey's talk at 9 p.m., simultaneous business meetings will be conducted by the Northend, North Coastside and South San Francisco Democratic clubs. These sessions start at 8 o'clock in various rooms of the school.

The sponsoring club welcomes the public to the meeting. New memberships are encouraged.

Colma Principal At Regional Meet

Dr. Bernard W. Gerdes, principal of Colma Intermediate school, attended the Pacific Regional Junior High School Conference last week at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley.

Theme of the educators' session was "The Junior High School Under The Microscope." Attending were administrators of junior high schools from eight Western states.

The conference featured section meetings on curriculum and exchange of ideas on junior high school objectives, plus tours of several East Bay junior high school plants.

OLYMPIA SCHOOL TAKES PART IN FIRE PREVENTION

Students at Olympia-Vista Mar Schools have been alerted to Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12. The school displayed a large fire hat, crossed axes, and a sign with flames drawn on it announcing "Fire Prevention Week—Oct. 6-12" in its front window. In the main corridor the display case showed drawings and woodwork from kindergarten through fourth grade of fire apparatus, equipment, and fire prevention techniques. Coupled with this students in the school have on display toy fire engines and trucks to illustrate the type and kind of equipment.

The patio of the school displays materials which cause fire, and a huge question above these materials asks: "Have you gotten rid of these?" In the fourth grade classroom, fire hats and axes set the theme for discussion areas, as they serve a dual purpose for an activity interest center. The Daly City fire department cooperated with the school by lending a fireman's hat, ax, and flag.

The kindergarten have made a large mural which is displayed above the corridor case showing their perception of fire.

Entries Sought For International Auto Show Queen

How would you like to be "Miss International Auto Show?"

That's the question of the hour posed by officials of the San Francisco International Auto Show, who are inviting all high school seniors and college girls and those of equivalent ages throughout Northern California to enter the competition, which will end October 25.

The lucky girl chosen on the basis of appearance, figure, poise and personality by a special panel of judges to be "Miss International Auto Show" will have an opportunity to appear on radio and television shows and to greet celebrities, in her official role as hostess for the International Auto Show, the most complete show of its kind in America, during the 10-day run at the Cow Palace, November 29 through December 8.

Six additional girls will be chosen by the judges to be "Motor Queens" and assist in Auto Show activities.

Candidates should send name, age, address, telephone number, school affiliation and a snapshot (if available) to the Auto Show office, 325 Pacific avenue, San Francisco. All entries must be postmarked no later than Friday, October 25.

Westmoor High Asks Part-Time Jobs For Pupils

J. Clayton Kollmann, dean of boys, and Miss Margaret Riggs, dean of girls, announced this week that the Westmoor High counselling office is in "dire need" of part-time employment for many students.

Merchants in the Westlake, Broadmoor, and Coastside areas are requested to contact either Kollmann or Miss Riggs at PL 6-3434 if they desire hiring any students from Westmoor.

Kollmann stated that the counselling offices at the high school would attempt to place students in part-time positions nearest their homes in order to reduce the transportation difficulties.

Troop 248 Takes 'Roundup' Honors

Troop 248 swept first place in the Scout Roundup Rally held on Saturday at Ocean View playground in San Francisco.

At a meeting of parents last week, the Troop formulated plans for a busy year. Included will be hikes, overnight trips, father and son campsouts, and potluck dinners.

Parents on the various committees include Herschel Cully, Frank Fotenos, Frank DeMartini, Harry Bosberry, Freda Farber, Philip Dwyer and Mr. Mallenger.

First Community Church To Offer Organ Concert Sunday

A special organ concert through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Garaden and their organist, B. Wakefield, will be held at this Sunday's morning worship service at First Community Church of South San Francisco, which meets in Queen Esther Chapel of Woodlawn Memorial park in Colma.

The First Community church began as an independent, non-denominational group just six weeks ago, under Pastor Richard E. Eggett.

Sunday services include Bible school for all ages at 9:45 a.m., morning worship service with nursery for small children at 11 a.m. and evening "singspiration" in homes at 7:30 p.m.

Third Thursday of each month ladies of the church meet in the homes of members at 8 p.m.

18 LOCAL PRINCIPALS PRAISED FOR PUSHING SCOUT MOVEMENT

Eighteen principals of Westlake-Lake Merced area schools received high praise for their "extra-curricular help" in extending the Scouting program for youths of all ages at a special dinner meeting of Lake Merced District Scout leaders last week.

Raymond Marks, vice president of Southern Pacific and vice president of the San Francisco Council, paid special tribute to both elementary and high school faculties for their sustaining interest and support, stating that this assistance is one of the factors keeping the youth character building movement in the community on a healthy, upward trend.

Oscar Alverson, chief Scout executive of the council, who introduced Marks, also lauded the educators' role as being on a par with the efforts of the clergy and Scouting leaders in the movement. He illustrated his discussion with anecdotes of his participation this summer in the national Scouting Jamboree at Valley Forge and an international encampment for world Scout leaders at London, England.

Of some 7065 boys available by the end of 1957 in age groups for the area's packs, troops and explorer posts, the local organization and extension committee under chairman Dan E. Andersen has set a participation goal of 2280 boys (about 32 percent).

Based on studies of census and other population surveys, the committee has projected a growth pattern that would bring approximately 3578 of the 8750 boys available in 1960 into the local Scouting movement—some 40 percent participation overall, according to Andersen.

The committee emphasized that many new adult leaders will be needed and new units will be started to handle the growth as fast as parents in the area realize that only their own efforts can help make a place in the youth-character building movement for their boys.

Studies submitted by Andersen's committee and adopted as "realistic goals" by the Lake Merced district show the Cubs should grow from a present participation rate of 50 to a 1960 rate of 60 percent, Boy Scouts from 37 to 45 percent, and Explorers (including Sea and Air groups) from 4 to 18 percent by 1960.

Andersen said the information for parents on what units their sons may enter, or how parents can prepare to serve their sons' units is as near as the nearest telephone inquiry to SF Scout Council.

Refreshments this Thursday were served by members of the executive board.

Pack 343 Boys Meet On Monday

The October meeting of Cub Pack 343 will be held at the Westlake Clubhouse next Monday at 7:30 p.m. One of the main topics to be discussed will be planning for an Open House at the November meeting.

Many awards were made at the September meeting. Registered Den Mothers for service of one year or more were presented with sterling silver scout charm bracelets. Recipients were Jessie Dahl, Vivian Baird, Esther Appleton, Grace Woods, Grace Cohen and Muriel Eastman.

Boys receiving Bobcat pins were Don Ellingson, Jim Coyne, Dan Alberti, Charles Boerio, Robert Steinfeld, Rodney D'Aquisto, Robert Verducci, Steven Swett and Arthur De Pauli.

The period November 1 to November 20 has been designated for the mailing of Christmas parcels and cards to members of the armed forces and their families stationed overseas, Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy announced today.

Air mail may be mailed up to December 10 to assure delivery to the military in time for Christmas.

Surface mails are limited to 70 pounds, except that a limit of not to exceed 50 pounds applies to certain APO addressed through New York. One hundred inches in length and girth combined is the maximum size allowable for ordinary surface mails. Two pounds and 30 inches is the maximum allowable by air, Murphy said.

On certain parcels, customs declarations must be prepared and affixed, and persons sending boxes are asked to use boxes of strong construction of such materials as wood, metal, solid fiberboard or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. Addressing should be by typewriter or in pen and ink and should be legible and complete.

Postmaster Murphy also pointed out that Christmas greeting cards to members of the armed services within these same mailing dates if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas. Further information may be obtained at any station of the Daly City Post Office.

HALLOWEEN EVE

By Joan Taylor

The old picture of Halloween brings to mind the familiar scene of the end of Indian Summer—when the fields are emptied of their harvest, the crops are gathered, and bundles of cut grass are neatly arranged in rows across a large expanse of meadow. And as legend has it, all the ghosts and goblins come out of hiding to snoop and haunt, and even the old black witch herself, can be seen flying like mad across a large, orange moon.

Be that as it may, Halloween has become civilized. No longer do witches and goblins roam the fields, for the young folk of our country have been introduced to a new way of making—Trick or Treats. Perhaps some of the mischief has gone out of Halloween, but so have the dangers. For the eve preceding All Saints' Day, no longer holds dread and anxiety for Mom and Dad, who were at one time horrified by the destructive antics of their young ones.

Today, the last evening of October is a pleasant event for all—when the kiddies dress up and mask, ring doorbells, and threaten us with "Tricks or Treats." Be sure too that you have plenty of treats to go around for the hungry brigade, and make sure you have plenty of "Butter Cream Candy Cakes." A generous supply of Halloween candies from the Herman Goelitz Candy Company, of 947 61st, in Oakland, will please the ghosts and protect you from their tricks.

MESDAMES Charles Lee, John Loof and Joseph Ryan bring forth the "Golden Harvest" theme of the fourth annual Mercy Ball, scheduled this Saturday evening at the Sheraton-Palace hotel in San Francisco. Joe DiMaggio, dance chairman, promises "one of the finest social affairs of the year."

Lou Picetti and his committee will serve refreshments.

Angelo Ferrigno and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Everyone is invited to attend.

Noonan and Bishop are neighbors. The former is a thwarted cartoonist, unable to sell his work. He is also frustrated on another creative level—he is apparently unable to become a father. Bishop is a successful editor "going broke on $20,000 a year," and only too proficient at fatherhood. He even has time and energy to spend on extracurricular activities.

Tormented Id

These activities cause him great torment of soul and like many another Exurbanite who cannot afford the luxury, he is being psychoanalyzed. Miss Onyx finds him woefully lacking in the qualities desired by the adoption agency, but as an individual she finds him full of interesting possibilities.

We have dwelt upon Noonan and Bishop at the expense of the rest of the cast because they have the best lines, deliver them with leering relish and keep the action on the plane of effervescent and slightly racy comedy. In less expert hands the whole thing could easily lose its sparkle and become as flat and tasteless as ments.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Browne

The Theater Guild production of "Tunnel of Love" opened last week at the Alcazar. This latest farcical expression of life and love in Exurbia should have a long rewarding run, if Tommy Noonan and William Bishop continue to lead the small (6) well-chosen cast in their happy splashing through a very shallow plot.

Noonan and Bishop are neighbors. The former is a thwarted cartoonist, unable to sell his work. He is also frustrated on another creative level—he is apparently unable to become a father. Special Meet Called To Discuss Variances For Callan Apartments

Ruling on two variances for Caesar-Callan company's $5½ million apartment development was put over to next Wednesday, after councilmen decided Monday that an entire session should be devoted to the major project.

The firm is seeking a reduction in front yard setbacks and off-street parking requirements.

should go on the prowl, it will make a new man of him.

At first Noonan isn't interested in becoming a new man, he just wants to become a father, and the main action of the plot hinges on his attempt to adopt a baby, hampered by his "references"—Bishop, of all people.

The play's most hilarious scene occurs when Narda Onyx, representing the adoption agency, calls at the unsuspecting Noonan's home. Inadequately clothed (clothes are not a status symbol to an Exurbanite) and waving a bottle of Scotch for emphasis, he welcomes her in.

TV and Radio

"Keep talking," the photographer directed. "Talking... what does one say first to such a beautiful and talented actress whom we have so long admired since seeing her in the delightful stage play 'Anniversary Waltz' and now starring over CBS television in 'The Danny Thomas Show' (KPIX, Mon., 8 p.m.) We had suddenly found ourselves face to face with lovely Marjorie Lord at a recent press gathering, and as flash bulbs popped we were told to keep talking. About what did we talk? Why a very important subject, of course—hats and furs. Exquisitely dressed in a simple olive green sheath, the lovely star wore a fur hat of black fox and carried a black fox muff. She told us she is very fond of muffs... white ones... black ones... any color... any kind. We discussed feather hats and she said she liked those too, because 'they are so feminine.' She is very excited about her new television role and true to television background is particularly pleased that the program is done before a 'live audience.'

The first program in the series which premiered last Monday night was gay light comedy, but we believe did not utilize Miss Lord's talents to the fullest. A fine actress, we hope future programs will place her in more plausible situations that really make use of her dramatic talent as well as her beauty.

Strictly For Veterans

Early next year the State Veterans Employment Committee will present the first of 10 annual awards to California employers and/or individuals for outstanding merit in the employment of veterans. One of the standards used in selecting winners is special effort made to place handicapped veterans in steady jobs. Do you know of any local person or firm who deserves nomination for such an award?

The week of October 6-12 was designated "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" by President Eisenhower and Governor Knight. This once-a-year observance, supplemented by the year-round efforts of employment offices and veterans organizations, has opened the eyes of thousands of employers to the abilities of the handicapped rather than their limitations.

The Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, comprising 50 prominent citizens, is helping with its program to increase job opportunities for the disabled, through vocational rehabilitation, employment counseling, selective placement and employer education. More and more employers realize that the so-called disabled have been trained to do certain jobs especially well.

Trained handicapped workers have proved themselves at least equal to the able-bodied in performance and stability. Disabled veterans rank among the best trained workers in the country. Help the disabled veterans help themselves.

Jewish Celebrate Final Week Of High Holy Days

The month-long season of Jewish High Holy Days and festivities will culminate this weekend when people of the Jewish faith assemble in their temples and synagogues to celebrate the last few days of Tabernacles.

Jewish residents from this area have been gathering at Congregation B'nai Israel, 67 Los Banos avenue, for the religious observances.

An esrog (rare citrus fruit) and a palm tree branch arrived from Israel to be used during the religious services.

Sunday morning the sanctuary was filled with youngsters, who were given an opportunity to hold the symbolic fruit and branch while pronouncing a prayer.

In the evening a Sukos dinner was served to 100 people in the social hall, under chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Biess.

Main attraction of the Sukos holiday is the Suko, which is decorated with flowers, pine tree branches, clusters of grapes and apples.

Sanctify Wine

Bread, wine and honey constituted part of the religious fare which decorated the table as the congregation witnessed the traditional sanctification of the wine.

Services will be held again this Wednesday evening at the synagogue, and Thursday at 10 a.m. a memorial observance will take place.

The major service concluding the holy days will be held Thursday evening at 8 p.m. when the holy scrolls will be taken out of the ark and adults and children will march around the altar seven times in honor of Simhath Torah, during which the first portion of the Book of Genesis will be read. Children will march with religious flags, chanting Hebrew melodies.

Sabbath Services

Friday evening at 8:15 a'clock the regular Sabbath services will be held, with Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Jerry Marcus officiating.

Title of the sermon is, "Who is Knocking at My Door, Saith the Lord." Rabbi Shore will discuss the prevailing theory on the Book of Genesis and the Russian satellite, Sputnik.

Refreshments will be served in the social hall after services. Free membership in the congregation is now available, according to Ernest Hartman, president of the congregation.

Peninsula residents may use the B'nai Israel facilities free of charge and children are welcome to attend Hebrew, Sunday school and junior congregation classes.

Divinity Pair Guest Speakers At St. Martin's

Illustrating their talk with photographic slides, two women theological students, Cynthia Arpke and Marilyn Smith, described "A Typical Day at St. Margaret's House" at a recent meeting of St. Martin's Episcopal church women's auxiliary.

Affiliated with the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, the house is a training center for women church workers, offering its residents graduate theological courses leading to a master's degree in Christian education, cooperative living facilities, group social life, and corporate worship in their own chapel. Present enrollment is 23 students.

Since all students are required to do field work between their two years of academic work, Miss Arpke discussed her assignment as assistant supervisor of a work camp in South Dakota, where about twenty college students labored to rehabilitate an impoverished American Indian community.

Career opportunities for young women in church work are almost unlimited, the speakers said, allowing graduates their choice among such positions as parish Christian educators, domestic or foreign missionaries, and college campus youth workers. Founded by the Rev. (later Rt. Rev.) E. L. Parsons to meet a widespread need for trained lay church workers, the institution receives funds from the national United Thank Offering of the women of the Episcopal church.

'Christianity In Business' Subject Of Episcopal Men

Movies and a talk by U. R. Kendree, Westlake shopping center manager, will highlight a meeting of the newly-formed Men's Club of St. Martin's Episcopal Church next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

"Christianity in Business" will be the subject of Kendree's address, in which he will discuss the place of religion in the business world of today, citing as examples several prominent men on the American scene who have profited through incorporating Christian principles into their business dealings.

Since men are equally as active as women in the affairs of St. Martin's, occupying eight places on the church school faculty and seven on the bishop's committee, which administers its business affairs, as well as the positions of treasurer, organizer, teen-age advisor, acolyte advisor, and building and finance committee members, it is expected that this meeting will be well attended. Information as to the meeting place, arrangements for which are now being made, may be obtained from Richard T. Phillips, PL 5-9703.

T. Phillips presided over discussion of plans for the Harvest Bazaar and dinner to be held November 16 in Benjamin Franklin school.

Tapia Air Strikes Befuddle Westmoor, 32-12

Rams To Play Host To Mateans

Blitzed 32-12 by Jefferson's passing fury last Friday in Daly City's first "Big Game," Westmoor's Ram gridders hope the third time will be the charm this week when they host San Mateo in Peninsula League warfare.

The Rams own a 1-2 season mark, having whipped Willow Glen in practice, 6-0, then losing 55-7 to awesome Capuchino before falling to Jeff.

Coach Pete Matisi praised his boys despite the Jeff walloping. The Rams will be at full strength for San Mateo here Friday. The invaders dumped Jeff, 19-6, then laid down for Capuchino, 45-0.

"We had no excuses against Jeff," said Matisi. "That Tapia (Paul) hurt us badly with those four TD passes. Garcia (Pete) also is a whale of a ball player. You can't do much on pass defense. I thought our offense looked pretty good just the same."

Tapia shots to Garcia, Sonny Martinez and Gary Ryan gave the Indians a 19-6 halftime edge. The Ram tally came on a Larry Schoenfeldt-led march

JEFFERSON fullback Herb Dirks cracks tackle for three touchdowns Friday in the 32-12 victory over Westmoor. Jeff across two more in the third period to topple their home-town rivals. Ram defenders (above) include Paul Gioni (85), Larry Harper (84) and Cliff Cushing (81). The Indians meet Hillsdale this Friday night at Burlingame. THE RECORD photo

GIMPY GATORS MEET FRISKY NEVADA FRIDAY

Joe Verducci and his San Francisco State gridders return to the Far Western Conference football battles when they meet the University of Nevada Wolfpack at Cox Stadium, this Friday. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

As a result of last week's 27-7 defeat to Fresno State, the Golden Gators are physical, a weakened squad. The Bulldogs and the local eleven were deadlocked 7-7 at halftime. However, the Gators could not hold back the running of fullback Dean Philpott and Fresno reserve strength as they suffered their second loss of the season.

The San Franciscans have five string players on the sidelines. Definitely out of this week's game and possibly for the season are tackle Tom Kiefer with torn knee ligaments and guard Jim Swan with a reinjured shoulder pointer. Possible non-starters include fullback Bob Rodrigo with an ankle bruise, and first team halfbacks Sandy Malnick, with a bad knee bruise, and John Sochor, who is still recovering from the flu.

Westmoor Harriers

Westmoor's varsity cross-country squad Monday defeated Lincoln of SF at Golden Gate park by a score of 24-31.

The Ram jayvees also won, 23-35. Lincoln's freshmen took a 26-29 decision, although Ram Jack Kyle continued his winning ways with a first place timing of 11:44.

12-0 Triumph

Tribe Frosh 11 Open By Blanking Panthers

An outweighed but aggressive Jefferson freshman team opened their Peninsula League schedule last Thursday with a 12-0 win over Burlingame on the losers' field.

This week, Coach Bob Watt's young Indians entertain San Mateo. The invaders also were successful in their first outing, tripping Hillsdale, 6-0.

Touch-Football Leagues Open Here Saturday

Touch-football league action begins this Saturday for sixth, seventh and eighth grade youngsters throughout the city, with the games scheduled for Colma's Trojan Field and Westlake park.

The city department of parks and recreation sponsors and supervises the competition.

Teams playing this Saturday are from Westlake school, Benjamin Franklin, Colma, War Memorial, Westlake park, Lincoln, Crocker, OLPH and Westlake Richfield.

For additional information and schedules, persons should call the department of parks and recreation, PL 5-0850, extension 18.

Westmoor Quintets Bounce Hillsdale In Doubleheader

Westmoor's gym-less light-weight basketball teams stayed in Peninsula League contention Tuesday by bouncing Hillsdale in a doubleheader at San Mateo.

The Ram 10's downed the Knights, 27-24, and the 20's came through, 26-25.

Westmoor's 10's have lost only to title-favored Jefferson in four league games. The Ram 20's are 2-2.

Dave Golden, John Wilson and Ed Walther shared 10's honors Tuesday with 8 points apiece. Dan O'Connor and Bill Reynolds paced the 20's with 10 each.

Westmoor's 10's dumped Burlingame last Thursday, 30-23, with forward Terry Christman pumping 15 points. The Panthers took the 20's tilt, 37-34, despite a 14-point performance by O'Connor. Reynolds got 10 in that one.

The Ram fives were scheduled to meet Capuchino this Thursday in San Bruno.

Jim Pfennig put Jeff ahead late in the third quarter on a 60-yard pass play to Rey Javier. The latter raced 45 yards after hauling in the hide.

Early in the fourth quarter Burlingame blocked a Jeff punt on the Indian 12 but lost the opportunity on downs.

Late in the same period the Panthers fumbled a Jeff punt and Jim Lufrano grabbed it and scooted 50 yards. A clipping penalty erased the score, however. With a first down on the Panther 17, Jeff then took three plays to hit the last stripe. Lufrano's line buck this time was legal.

Watt praised his team's overall play, citing tackling in particular. He also singled out his alternate QB's, Pfennig and Tom McEntee. End Stan Montalvo and guard Ed Crowley drew praise up front.

Jefferson QB Sets PL Pace For Air Power

Senior Paul Tapia, the key to Jeff's football fortunes, is the Peninsula League's leading passer, statistics showed today.

Tapia connected 11 times in 25 tries Friday for four touchdowns to pace the 32-12 rout of Westmoor. He has a 44 percent accuracy mark.

Westmoor's Dave Simons has 17 for 43 in two league games to rank second on the Peninsula.

Thanks to Tapia, Jeff is second in team offense with 466 yards in two games. Title-bound Capuchino has accumulated 621 rushing yards and 209 through the air.

JV Football Match

Jefferson's junior varsity gridders play host to the Westmoor reserves next Monday afternoon.

The contest begins at 3 o'clock.

Brisbane Pin-Busters Lengthen Leadership

Paced by Dad Strassburger and Dee Gorton, first-place Brisbane Market picked up a half game Tuesday night in DC-Colma League scrambles at Brentwood Bowl.

The '56 champs nodded tough Carmona Chemical, two out of three games. E. Bucher's series of 523 was best for the vanquished five.

Al Wright, Squirring Herm Kalinin and Del Fehl put Val's Room in second spot with a split over Edisco. Wright had a 546 series.

Thur Meat two-timed Lou Amroffell to lower the losers to third place, just two games out. Al Hepler was the most productive butcher. His series tally was a 524. F. Blondino led Amroffell with a 514.

The 101 Club, sparked by Bucci Rocchetta and Pat Bolentini, moved into a tie for fourth by dropping but one game to Vince and Fred. Ernie Cool rolled a 234 singles in that one, high for the evening.

Hillsdale Next Victim?

INDIANS CLOBBER RIVALS VIA SKIES

By Roy Hurlbert

Stimulated by a smashing 32-12 conquest of Westmoor last Friday, Jefferson's varsity Indians carry their "victory through air power" attack to Burlingame this Friday night in an odds-even T-party with once-defeated Hillsdale.

The 8 p.m. engagement will be primarily a battle of passers Paul Tapia and Keith Mattos, the best flingers in the circuit.

Tapia, favoring a badly damaged knee, scuttled the rival Rams here last week with four touchdown strikes. Mattos, the hot-and-cold Hillsdale field general, likewise can bust any game wide open via the overhead route.

Knights Nipped

Hillsdale dropped its opener, 13-7, Saturday to a clutch Burlingame eleven. A last ditch stand saved the Panthers and kept them astride Capuchino as the loop's unbeaten with 2-0 marks.

Coach Joe McGrath, getting the most from his injury-riddled squad last week, is optimistic for the Hillsdale scrap. But the Indian chief still has a long hospital list and fears the flu. Tapia and fullback Herb Dirks missed two days of practice this week due to Asian miseries. Neither will be too healthy for combat. Both are essential to get the job done.

Martinez Ailing

Limping Sonny Martinez, who like Tapia made his season debut against Westmoor, came out of Tuesday's warmup with a shoulder injury. Sonny is faster than any carrier on the Peninsula and he plugs a big defensive safety hole.

Counted-on center Bill Dixon still hasn't recovered from illness. Tom Coop and Bill Brown, quick learners, are sharing pivot duties.

Jim Ahern, third string FB, also is indefinite. Starter Pat Lena can't even suit up because of a bothersome knee, hurt in the San Mateo game. End Barry Haanen has identical trouble.

Tapia again must bear the load. With sensational Pete Garcia going full blast, and end mates Gary Ryan and Bob Berry doing likewise, the Indians will be frisky.

Two Big Guns

Paul and Pete shocked Westmoor.

Depending strictly on his arm, Tapia lofted four scoring pitches, two of them to the bull-like Garcia for bursts of 92 and 42 yards.

Garcia's first end zone trip—the 92-yarder—opened the scoring just as the second quarter opened. Tapia hit Pete in the Ram secondary, and after dusting off two linebackers, Garcia outtraced the safetymen in with one of the best samples of running this writer has seen.

Jeff made it 13-0 a few minutes later on a short march, topped by a 42-yard Tapia to Martinez completion. Dirks did the honors off tackle from the 3.

Dave Simons and Larry Schoenfeldt got Westmoor rolling briefly with a drive for six. Rich Hottal terminated the march by plunging from the 1.

Gary Ryan was Tapia's next target to make it 19-6 at halftime. The play covered 42 yards.

Deciding Tally

The Indians sealed the verdict with two more tallies in the third period. Martinez set up one by stealing a Simons pass on the Jeff 41. Two plays later, Garcia hauled in a Tapia heave on the Ram 24 and went the route. Final Indian score came on a 4-yard Tapia shot to Felix Valdez, reserve end.

Simons and Schoenfeldt clicked for the second Ram TD late in the contest. It was a 42-yard aerial strike.

Tapia's moundwork totaled 11 hits and 14 misses for 358 yards. Simons went 8 for 25 and 154 yards.

Jeff led in total yardage, 371-253. The Rams had more first downs, 7-0.

Tribe's Garcia Third Highest League Scorer

Big Pete Garcia, Jefferson's outstanding junior end, ranks third in Peninsula League varsity scoring, according to figures released today by the Peninsula Sportswriters Association.

Garcia scored two TD's and an extra point last week against Westmoor. He's a solid bet for all-loop honors.

Pete leads the Peninsula in pass receptions with five for 206 yards. Paul Tapia's 92-yard pass play to Garcia last Friday is the longest aerial maneuver in the loop this season.

Gene Tagliaferri, Capuchino's field boss, leads the scorers with 34 points in two games. His teammate, Jerry Scattini, is next with five TD's for 30 points.

SSF Frosh 11 Cuff Westmoor In Debut, 33-6

Defeated 33-6 by South City last week in their first Peninsula League try, Westmoor's freshman footballers will be out to make amends this Thursday at Capuchino.

"Mental errors ruined us in the opener," testified Coach Rod Losberger. "Our fumble on our 17 and running once on fourth down paved early Warriors touchdowns."

The invaders romped to a 27-0 halftime bulge, then coasted in the final two quarters. Halfback Clyde Haddock personally accounted for three SSF tallies on sizeable runs.

Westmoor's single score came on a seven-yard pass play; QB Billy Hix to Ron Petrocchi, left in the tangle.

Bearcat Cagers Surprise Injuns

Inaccuracy on the free throw line meant costly losses for Jefferson's previously unbeaten C and D basketball teams Tuesday.

San Mateo scored twin wins over Mike Orlich's title-conscious Indians. The 10's tally was 29-23, while the 20's outcome read 39-35.

Orlich's 10's missed 12 free throws. The 20's muffed 14 charity tosses.

The Jeff quintets last Thursday humbled visiting Capuchino, 33-28 in the 10's, and 36-14 in the 20's.

Tony DiVirgilio and Mike Schultz were high guns with 15 and 12 points, respectively. Mike Brush got 11 against San Mateo's 20's. Three of Orlich's regulars missed that one because of flu.

Both Indian squads are 3-1 in Peninsula League standings.
